“Get in Good Trouble” The Honorable John Robert Lewis In Memoriam

A WORD FROM OUR PASTOR AND TEACHER

Oaks of Righteousness

In the 61st chapter of the book of Isaiah, the prophet speaks of God's people as "Oaks of Righteousness, the planting of the Lord." His writing was to encourage Jews that Jerusalem, which was in ruins, would one day be restored. He is telling them that on the day of restoration, God's people would be giants of righteousness and dwell in peace.

In July, our nation lost some "Oaks of Righteousness." Congressman John Lewis and Rev. C.T. Vivian, two pioneers of the Civil Rights Movement, departed this life on July 17. Their lives, and their commitment to the cause of justice, have paved the way for us. Our lives are made better by their sacrifice. Mt. Zion experienced the loss of one of our "Oaks of Righteousness," when Mother Ruth Browder passed away on July 30. "Ms. Ruth" was born into a family with generational roots as members of the Mt. Zion family. We will miss her dearly, but the legacy of her quiet yet powerful presence will remain with us.

In this issue of The Spire, we are excited to celebrate the 2020 class of Mt. Zion's "Living Legends." In March, the Women's fellowship had to cancel their Phenomenal Women Legends Luncheon, due to the coronavirus pandemic. Since we were unable to acknowledge the commitment and service of these phenomenal women, we are excited to celebrate them now. A virtual luncheon via Zoom is being planned for September. Until then, please join me in congratulating these six mighty women of God. Our first-ever Zoom Vacation Bible School was a great success!!! Special thanks to VBS directors Grady and Dr. Melissa Burrows; our adult class teachers, Rev. Ray and Cindy Banks; our craft teachers, Leslie Oliver and Deacon Verona Gardner, and to Mt. Zion's Poet Laureate, Linda Green, for sharing their gifts with us each night. Please remember that Youth Church takes place each Sunday at 12:30 p.m. during the Zoom Coffee Hour.

We are grateful to God for the tremendous work of our Bountiful Harvest ministry. Last month, we fed two hundred families. Please join us on Thursday, August 6, and the first Thursdays of September and October, as we provide fresh fruit and produce for our community. On Thursday, August 13, GriefShare will begin its Fall 2020 session via Zoom. GriefShare is a phenomenal bereavement support program. If you have experienced the loss of a loved one, please register for GriefShare to get the needed help and support.

We are excited about the Christian Business League's Annual Michael G. Shinn Memorial Golf Outing that will take place on September 12 at the Black Brook Golf Club in Mentor, OH. This year, we honor Mr. Robert P. Madison, AIA, the first registered African American architect in the state of Ohio. We are looking for golfers and volunteers to join in, making this golf outing a great success. To register, click the link found in the Weekly Update.

On Sunday, September 13, our Annual Stewardship Commitment Campaign will begin. In August, you will receive your 2021 Commitment cards in the mail. They will also be available for you to download and print as a part of the Weekly Update. Once again, I want to take this time to thank all of Mt. Zion members for your generous support of God's church. Your extraordinary commitment to God is evidenced by your monetary resources in support of the great works that God is doing at Mt. Zion. On Tuesday, September 15, JOBS will begin its Fall 2020 session. We are looking for students and mentors. Please follow the Weekly Update for registration information.

The Christian Business League will also host their September Faith and Finance Event via Zoom on September 25. Our speaker will be former NBA star and Warrensville Heights Mayor, Bradley Sellers. Please follow the Weekly Updates for more information. We are so grateful for the "Oaks of Righteousness" who make it possible for Mt. Zion to be found pleasing in God's sight. I pray God's richest blessings upon each of you as we live through the challenges of this present age. We know the words of the Apostle Paul are true and can be trusted. Let us rest in this assurance.

"I consider that the sufferings of this present time are not worth comparing with the glory about to be revealed to us." Romans 8:18

The Passing of Two Icons

The dawn of each new day brings happiness and sadness. America lost two icons on July 17, Congressman John Robert Lewis and Rev. Dr. C. T. Vivian. These two men had the courage of David as they fought Goliath in the form of racism, segregation and bigotry. Some people are probably asking, "What is the big deal about these two men?" Clearly, they didn't know what they stood for or they were too young or unborn when the struggles for which they fought was on the nightly news.

Here are a few things about Congressman John Robert Lewis:

- ✓ During the civil rights struggle, Lewis was arrested approximately 40 times?
- ✓ Lewis was the youngest speaker at the March on Washington in 1963? He was 23 years old.
- ✓ Lewis suffered a fractured skull as a result of being beaten while leading the March from Selma to Montgomery in 1965? It was that march that enabled the Voting Rights Act to be addressed and put into law?

Here are a few items about Rev. Dr. C. T. Vivian:

- ✓ Vivian co-founded the Nashville Leadership Conference to organize the sit-ins in Nashville and took part in the Freedom Rides
- ✓ Vivian was a close friend and lieutenant of Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr. during the civil rights movement.
- ✓ In 1947, Vivian participated in his first non-violent action to end segregation at lunch counters in Peoria.
- ✓ Vivian was beaten bloody by Sheriff Jim Clark while trying to register black voters in Selma, Alabama. This action led to the march across the Edmund Pettus Bridge in 1965 which became known as "Bloody Sunday."

"Before the Voting Rights Act, an estimated 23 percent of African Americans were registered to vote. This act banned literacy tests, poll taxes and other methods to disenfranchise African Americans from exercising their constitutional rights. In 2013, the Supreme Court struck down a key provision of the Voting Rights Act, ruling 5-4 in Shelby v. Holder that it was unconstitutional to require states with a history of voter discrimination to seek federal approval before changing their election laws. In the wake of the Court's decision, a number of states passed new restrictions on voting, including limiting early voting and requiring voters to show photo ID. Supporters argue such measures are designed to prevent voter fraud, while critics say they—like poll taxes and literacy tests before them—disproportionately affect poor, elderly, Black and Latino voters."

Now it is our turn to have the courage of Esther and David to face an election that will undoubtedly change the course of every person living in America.

Get your ballot early! If you can, take it to the Board of Elections. If you must mail it, mail it early. Be aware that this administration has cut funds from the Postal Service and there will be delays in ballots getting to the Board of Elections — yet another means to disenfranchise the vote of people of color.

Together, You Can Redeem the Soul of Our Nation
By John Lewis

Mr. Lewis, the civil rights leader who died on July 17, wrote this essay shortly before his death, to be published upon the day of his funeral,

July 30, 2020

From the New York Times

While my time here has now come to an end, I want you to know that in the last days and hours of my life you inspired me. You filled me with hope about the next chapter of the great American story when you used your power to make a difference in our society. Millions of people motivated simply by human compassion laid down the burdens of division. Around the country and the world you set aside race, class, age, language and nationality to demand respect for human dignity.

That is why I had to visit Black Lives Matter Plaza in Washington, though I was admitted to the hospital the following day. I just had to see and feel it for myself that, after many years of silent witness, the truth is still marching on.

Emmett Till was my George Floyd. He was my Rayshard Brooks, Sandra Bland and Breonna Taylor. He was 14 when he was killed, and I was only 15 years old at the time. I will never ever forget the moment when it became so clear that he could easily have been me. In those days, fear constrained us like an imaginary prison, and troubling thoughts of potential brutality committed for no understandable reason were the bars.

Though I was surrounded by two loving parents, plenty of brothers, sisters and cousins, their love could not protect me from the unholy oppression waiting just outside that family circle. Unchecked, unrestrained violence and government-sanctioned terror had the power to turn a simple stroll to the store for some Skittles or an innocent morning jog down a lonesome country road into a nightmare. If we are to survive as one unified nation, we must discover what so readily takes root in our hearts that could rob Mother Emanuel Church in South Carolina of her brightest and best, shoot unwitting concertgoers in Las Vegas and choke to death the hopes and dreams of a gifted violinist like Elijah McClain.

Like so many young people today, I was searching for a way out, or some might say a way in, and then I heard the voice of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. on an old radio. He was talking about the philosophy and discipline of nonviolence. He said we are all complicit when we tolerate injustice. He said it is not enough to say it will get better by and by. He said each of us has a moral obligation to stand up, speak up and speak out. When you see something that is not right, you must say something. You must do something. Democracy is not a state. It is an act, and each generation must do its part to help build what we called the Beloved Community, a nation and world society at peace with itself.

Ordinary people with extraordinary vision can redeem the soul of America by getting in what I call good trouble, necessary trouble. Voting and participating in the democratic process are key. The vote is the most powerful nonviolent change agent you have in a democratic society. You must use it because it is not guaranteed. You can lose it.

You must also study and learn the lessons of history because humanity has been involved in this soul-wrenching, existential struggle for a very long time. People on every continent have stood in your shoes, through decades and centuries before you. The truth does not change, and that is why the answers worked out long ago can help you find solutions to the challenges of our time. Continue to build union between movements stretching across the globe because we must put away our willingness to profit from the exploitation of others.

Though I may not be here with you, I urge you to answer the highest calling of your heart and stand up for what you truly believe. In my life I have done all I can to demonstrate that the way of peace, the way of love and nonviolence is the more excellent way. Now it is your turn to let freedom ring.

When historians pick up their pens to write the story of the 21st century, let them say that it was your generation who laid down the heavy burdens of hate at last and that peace finally triumphed over violence, aggression and war. So I say to you, walk with the wind, brothers and sisters, and let the spirit of peace and the power of everlasting love be your guide.

She was elected and served as Church Treasurer and as a member of the Board of Trustees. A born leader, Deacon Ann chairs the annual Women's Day program for the Women's Fellowship and is the chief architect for the 2020 Living Legends program.
